<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Designed and developed a high-fidelity interactive prototype using Figma, tailored to meet specific client requirements.</li><li>Conducted data extraction and analysis from client-provided databases to ensure accurate and relevant information was utilized.</li><li>Implemented the frontend using WordPress, meticulously aligning with the Figma prototype to provide a seamless user experience and precise data presentation.</li></ul>

Diverse End-Users Research

- Conducted comprehensive surveys and literature reviews to identify biases among user groups.
- Developed a web application with features designed to provide developers with insights into supporting special user groups.
- Utilised Flask for backend development to create APIs, and connected to MongoDB for data storage, managing detailed information on various user groups.
- Visualised data fetched from the backend into a user-friendly interface using React.
- Presented research findings and application development in a paper at COMPSAC 2022.

Web-Based Solution for Best Practice

- Developed SQL queries based on client requirements to extract necessary data from a best practice database.
- Built APIs using APIFlask to facilitate data requests and retrieval from the database.
- Integrated backend data with a React frontend, presenting information in user-friendly formats such as tables and graphs.
